

WHISKEY HAZE

Music & Lyrics By Bob Gray

© January 21, 1992

CHORUS:

I've been too long on the road... too long in this bar.
It seems that I've been drinking here for days.
Above the noise and clamour, and across the many miles . . .
I hear you call me, through this whiskey haze.

There's a thousand miles of blacktop... And I've seen every highway.
But the roads that lie between us, just don't meet up anywhere.
But just 'cuz I'm not with you, doesn't mean that I don't love you.
For home is where the heart is, and my broken heart is there.

REPEAT CHORUS:

The words that pass between us... Are few, and sometimes hurtful.
But that don't mean the feelings, just don't linger anymore.
The words I say, don't tell you, and the things I do, don't show you.
That I cannot live without you, you're the one that I adore.

Bridge:

So I'll sleep it off tonight,
And tomorrow make everything right.
Get myself on a different road,
Find my way back home to you

REPEAT CHORUS: